

THE WEYMOUTH GAZETTE

FRIDAY, SEPT. 4, 1868.

GEO. H. CHANNING HALL is the duly authorized General Agent for the Gazette, and all receipts given by him will be acknowledged.

EDUCATION:

By act of Congress, passed in 1867, a department of education was established at Washington, for the purpose of collecting such statistics and facts as shall show the condition and progress of education in the several States and Territories, and of diffusing such information respecting the organization and management of school systems, and methods of teaching, as shall aid the people of the United States in the establishment and maintenance of efficient school systems, and otherwise promote the cause of education throughout the country.

Under this act a Commissioner of Education was appointed, whose duty should be to present to Congress an annual report embodying the results of his investigations and labors, together with a statement of such facts and recommendations as will, in his judgment, subserve the purpose for which this Department is established.

In his preliminary report the Commissioner makes some suggestions of importance to those who have charge of educational affairs, and refers to the difficulties under which he has labored in instituting inquiries for the purpose of obtaining uniform statistics. He says:

"The magnitude and delicacy of the work assigned to this Department both in the general and the specific provisions above recited, are such as to compel the Commissioner to invoke in advance a charitable judgement on any apparent deficiency in his plans, or in any delay in reaching, or in making public the results of his first year's labors. None save those who have had personal experience in this field of labor can appreciate fully the difficulty of obtaining complete statistics, or even general information, of the organization and operation of systems and institutions, located in forty-six different States and Territories occupying half of the American Continent;—these systems, where they do exist, differing from each other in organization, management, and returns; and these institutions, whether in or out of the general system of the State, differing from each other in all the great centres of population. This difficulty of obtaining precise and uniform statistics, no inconsiderable even where there is legal authority for requiring the information, and forfeiture of some kind, or pecuniary advantage is attached to withholding or giving the same, becomes almost insuperable, when us with this Department, there is no organic connection with systems or institutions in the several States; no authority to require, no pecuniary advantage for furnishing, no forfeiture for delaying or neglecting to furnish the information sought; and no means to supply the written returns by personal inspection.

"It is a comprehensive and exhaustive inquiry, on some general plan, was instituted every year in each State, into its educational condition and progress, including institutions of every kind and grade, compilation and comparative view of the results would be very easy and satisfactory; and it is hoped that one of the results of the labors and publications of this Department, and of the annual Conferences of State and City Superintendents already inaugurated, will be the adoption of some uniform plan of gathering annually the statistics of schools of every kind, both in States, and in all large cities. At the present time, there are only two States or cities, in which the statistical returns as published, include the same particulars, or between which a rigid comparison as to schools can be instituted; in more than one half of the States the returns are so incomplete as to institutions, or omit so many vital points in the condition of the schools returned, as to be worthless, as indications of the real work attempted, or done, in individual schools, or by all the schools of the State; in nearly all of the States, no attempt is made to secure inspection or returns of private, denominational, or incorporated institutions; in nearly one half of the States no efficient system of public schools is in operation, and no sufficient number of good private or denominational schools exists; and of those which have a precarious existence, not even their locality, or the name of the teachers and the number of pupils are known to any public officer; and with a single exception, no efficient measures are enforced by State or municipal regulations as to the non-attendance of children at some school, public or private, to stop the growth of absolute illiteracy, or diminish, by evening and adult schools, the still larger amount of practical ignorance of letters and books, which abounds, even in States where the most attention is paid to education.

FIRE.—The dwelling-house, stable and large barn of John Lane, on Union street, were burned last Tuesday night. The fire originated in the stable, supposed from a defective chimney, there being a room fitted up in the stable for cooking purposes. Two persons, a man and boy, slept in the stable, and were very difficultly aroused in season to escape. Two horses were injured, and about 10 tons of hay in the barn. There being no engine in the place, the flames spread to the dwelling, which was entirely consumed, but the furniture was saved in a damaged condition. The light was seen by persons in Weymouth, who gave an alarm, which brought out the Union engine company, who dragged the machine to the fire, but arrived too late to save property.

EAST* WEYMOUTH.

J. Webster Burrell is putting up a two story manufacturing shop, between his father's and Thomas Porter's. He has been engaged a year or more in making heels, mostly out of upper leather,—new branch which has been started since leather has risen so high. Suppose it must be a paying business; those who are engaged it seem to prosper.

BRANT ROCK.

Brant Rock, Marshfield, is getting to be a fashionable watering place. The construction of the Hanover Branch Railroad, and the institution of Randall's line of coaches has given it an impetus. The transportation over the line to this place has numbered as high as a hundred passengers in one day. Tourists come from New York and other distant places, expressly to visit this resort. The advantages for surfing are excellent, and affords a good opportunity for those who enjoy fishing or sailing. We understand that a large hotel is to be erected, and before many years this hitherto remote spot on the shores of Plymouth County will compare favorably with many other fashionable watering places of the day. [Abington Standard.]

B. W. PRONTY.

B. W. Pronty, of Seatauk, who has lately returned from the West, has a curiosity in the shape of stone, picked up in Iowa which is found in great plenty in that region. This stone is composed of shells, petrified worms, pebbles, &c., and has a decidedly marine look, and adds correlative testimony to the opinion that the Western prairies were at one time covered with salt water.

A CHANCE.—A Yankee down East advertised for better half in the following curious manner:

"Any gal what's got $500 and hasn't got the itch, can find a customer for her life, by writing bill duex addressed to Z. Q. and stickin' in the crack of Uncle Ebenezer's barn."

E. ABINGTON AND VICINITY.

Rev. J. S. Hamlin commenced his labors as pastor of the Baptist church in this place on the 30th ult.

During the tempest on Sunday last, the dwelling of Mr. Allen was struck, and Mr. A. was severely injured though no traces of the course of the electric fluid could be found on his person, or in the room where he was found, in an insensible condition. Some of the children had the shoes taken from their feet and the rubber gones were torn from a congress boot. A young man, visiting at Mr. A.'s, had one of his boots taken off and found himself 15 rods from the house, lying on the ground, completely drenched with rain, he having unconsciously wandered out and fallen.

An unoccupied house, belonging to Abner Curtis barn, in W. Hanover was also struck, and a heifer instantly killed.

The Wooded Hill road, in Hanover is nearly completed. Perhaps there's no other road in the country about which there has been so much discussion, and ill feeling. Indeed, the people of Hanover are exceedingly beligerent, and oppose everything, from a rail road to a guide board, and they fight it out on that line!

The section of the railroad running through this town was the scene of several encounters. Woodard Hill could be completed without a fight. A few days since, a resident of the town, who was employed on the road, took occasion to reprove some of the Irish hands for abusing the horses, whereupon a son of Erin laid his fist on the forehead of the friend of the dumb animal, causing him to measure his length in the sand. But Cowper's gentleman was soon up and as quickly had the irate Fenian down, endeavoring with all his might to gouge out Pat's eyes, which Pat had badly prevented by keeping his face well down in the sand. Pat, on promise of good behavior, was finally let up, but was taken before Squire Simmons and fined $17, for striking the tender hearted friend of the brutes, who so mercifully intended to prevent all further cruelty to the animals, by punching and gouging the human into life-long blindness.

During the litigation preceding the location of the aforesaid road, an exasperated witness testified that the longest way round might be shorter than a straight line between two given points. Said he, I used to drive a speared horse over the old turnpike between Boston & New Bedford and twas just as much as I could do to git the critter into a dog-trot over the ere straight road; but as soon as I turned off into a crooked road, I shd go round them air corners like a sloop I could have gone from Boston to New Bedford in half the time if ther'd only been now and then a bend to encourage the animal along. Fortunately the circular way to the Corners will be left open, and our friend can take the shorter route.

RANDOLPH.—The Register says on Tuesday of last week a fire was set in the neighborhood of "Royal Grove," to bring out the fire companies. Part of the members of one or two base ball clubs of Randolph were in play with a party from Boston. There was a contest for a ball, which was won by a Randolph club, but not given up by the Boston club. A fight ensued, in which several of both parties were somewhat injured. One from Boston had an arm broken, and three others were hurt so badly that they could not be taken to Boston that night. Some one, hoping to bring the fire companies to the scene, started a smoke, but seeing the fire was not in the vicinity of buildings, the alarm did not become general.

A NEW MOTOR.

Alvah Morrison has recently added a new engine to his facilities for manufacturing yarns, at E. Braintree woolen mill.

Mr. L. O. Crocker, who has for a long time acted as engineer of the flax mills, at East Braintree, will soon commence operation as a machinist, having secured power at the Mount Holyoke Mill.

In connection with the new tanning and currying establishment at East Braintree, the manufacture of boots and shoes will be carried on in the upper rooms, on a large scale, employing probably about 200 hands.

J. N. MAESNER.

J. N. Maesner closed his writing school at the Landing on Wednesday evening, and will commence at South Weymouth Monday next. The progress made by the pupils under his instruction has been very satisfactory, and it is hoped that he will soon favor us with another visit.

THE SEPTEMBER NUMBER OF THE "RIVERSIDE."

introduces "A Ride on a Locomotive" Mr. Austin Abbott, son of the Abbott, describes how a miniature railroad was built; and H. H. shows in verse how two children took a voyage round the world in roseleaf galleys. A new contributor, F. J. Mills, who has been a hunter in South Africa, gives an illustrated paper, "My First Shot at a Lion." The usual serials by Jacob Abbott, "Vieux Moustache," Mrs. Weeks, and Miss Thomas, make up most of the remainder; though no one should overlook the picturesque historical paper on Washington's visit to New York, by L. G. C. Published by Hurd & Houghton.

BRAINTREE.

THE CONTRAST.—Within a week of one another two of the State senators of the last Legislature have delivered addresses in our town hall. Hon. Edward Avery first spoke in support of the democratic party and its principles as embodied in the platform. The other, Hon. Robert C. Pitman of New Bedford, spoke in favor of the great moral principles upheld by the majority of the Republican party in Massachusetts. We will not attempt to give a report of their speeches, although we would, if we did know that the readers of the Gazette, or the majority of them in Weymouth, have a greater claim upon its columns than we have for whatever trifles may be said in their favor. The Chicago and Worcester Conventions, Judge Russell, and E. Atkinson, Esq. of Boston will be present, and address the people. Other distinguished speakers have been invited. The Weymouth Band has also been engaged. All persons irrespective of party are invited to be present. It is also reported that a Grant and Colfax Flag will be thrown to the breeze by the Republicans and Veterans of the late war, in the first School District, No. Weymouth, this week or next week.

Doty's Clothes washer, and from Report of former Meeting
Last April.
Weymouth, Mass., William D. Doty, Beron, Calver, County, N. Y., who has given us his opinion of washing machines, it is recommended to pay fourteen dollars a month for the machine, and not to wash ten clothes clean, and not to take care of them well. Washing machines have so great a taste to be taken care of that am afraid of them now. However, if you had to pay for the money you ever made upon your factory, it would be better than nothing. Get the Clothes Washer with me, and your wife will find it a thing made easy.

TOM TOPPERLY.

Tom Topperly was the veriest scoundrel in all the world. He had been a great many things besides a toper, but he had always been a toper since he was twelve years old, and he was now twenty-five.

Tom had been passed through all the temperance orders and societies that had sprung up in his neighborhood, and he came out as much of a scoundrel as he went in.

At the end of twelve months from the night of his imprisonment, the farmer said to him:

"I am going to take a ride today, Thomas. You may go with me."

At the town where the farmer met Tom, he conducted him to a shop and had him rigged out in a handsome suit of clothes, and then paid him in addition for all the work he had performed. Tom's amazement at this proceeding we would not attempt to describe, but it did not abate in the least when the farmer said:

"Now you will go with me to the town where you were known as a scoundrel. I shall call you Mr. Brown."

"Why, sir?" ventured Tom, his eyes full of tears.

"You will see when you get there, but you must be a stranger to everybody," returned the farmer.

"Any thing you say, sir," replied Tom, more deeply amazed than he had yet been.

Arriving at the village, Mr. Brown was introduced to the principal citizens. The farmer was generally known and respected. Mr. Brown was well dressed and made a fine appearance. He was invited with the farmer to the Custom House, the most fashionable house in the town, and every body was astounded at his appearance.

Mr. Brown could endure it no longer, and, jumping up, to the consternation of the magistrate, he cried:

"Help yourself, said the gentleman. It is good, and you will stay with me a long time before you drink the spring water."

"I'll warrant it!" returned the magistrate; "Eve, no doubt, he died like a beast in a ditch."

Mr. Brown could endure it no longer, and, jumping up, to the consternation of the magistrate, he cried:

"It is our home," said his new friend. "Tom was driven five miles into the country, and was set down in a farm-yard, abounding with fowl and cattle."

"Tom thought it a queer place to get as much as he could drink, but did not venture to remark. The gentleman led the way to a handsome stone house, gave Tom a seat in the porch, and ordered a boy to bring a pail of water. It was cool and limpid.

"This is our home," said his new friend. "Tom thought it was good, and you will stay with me a long time before you drink the spring water."

"I'll warrant it!" returned the magistrate. "Eve, no doubt, he died like a beast in a ditch."

Tom was without doubt, the best, the most lasting, and consequently the cheapest. We are content with a fair profit. Our prices range from $300 to $800.

THE WEYMOUTH WEEKLY GAZETTE.

THE WEYMOUTH GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 18, 1838.

G. R. CUNNINGHAM is the only authorized General Agent for the Gazette, and all receipts given by him will be acknowledged.

ENLARGEMENT. Our readers will probably be gratified with an addition to the amount of reading matter in the enlargement of the Gazette, and as we shall be enabled to give free scope to the numerous contributors who have favored us with their pen and ink sketches, the change will be one of a pleasing character, we trust, to all interested.

AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—The announcement of the programme of the fair to be held by the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society, will be found in another column.—To those who pride themselves in sustaining local institutions the yearly advent of the farmers' festival is hailed with interest, as it should be by every laborer in the industries of our community, who should know no north, no south, no east, no west, in their furtherance of the objects of this society. These exhibitions of local production are not meaningless displays, but have a marked significance, in fostering a spirit of honorable emulation among producers of everything necessary to the comfort and sustenance of mankind. The artisan, the farmer, the manufacturer, can, by exhibiting the more striking results of their skill and handicraft, derive mutual benefit from the display, while they aid in affording a means of gratification and instruction to the general public.

The management of the Society appeals with confidence to the citizens of Weymouth, in the present exhibition, to make it one of a character which shall surpass all others in variety and interest. The products of the field, the dairy, the factory and the workshop, should all be laid under contribution to swell the list of exhibitors, and the people of every portion of the town should make it a matter of duty to encourage the Society by their attendance.

The programme of entertainment is sufficiently attractive to bring out a large number of visitors, and the feeling is general that the fair will be a great success.

A PLEASANT OCCASION. Mr. Editor.—The people of Lovell's Corner gave to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron, on the evening of Sept. 9th a Paper Wedding.

It proved a pleasant occasion; the happy faces of those filling the hall testifying to the truth that it is blessed to give, while the recipients manifested their appreciation of the tokens of affection bestowed.

Anber Holbrook, Esq., made an address, in which he alluded to the happiness of those whose first marriage anniversary they had assembled to celebrate, spoke touchingly of Mr. W.'s strenuous efforts to promote the spiritual welfare of the community, and the appreciation of his labors by the people in behalf of whom he spoke, assuring him that their prayers should not cease to ascend for him during life. He then presented the gifts which were most generous, remarking that the pure sheets before him were suggestive of the precious truth which should yet be recorded upon them. Mr. Waldron replied in warm terms. And speaking of the inducements he had to go and minister to the myriads of starving souls in the great West, he said the endearing ties of friendship that had grown up between him and his people at East Weymouth and Lovell's Corner, held him as if he were spell bound to his present mission; and that the many happy meetings they had had together, where so much good had been done, and the cheering prospect still before them—made him feel as if he could not leave a field of labor so full of hope and promise.

F. D. Pratt, Esq. and a few of his musical friends rendered at intervals some choice selections of vocal and instrumental music. After discussing the merits of the various viands, ice creams, &c., the whole company indulged in friendly greetings and social intercourse.

It was upon the whole an evening of profound social enjoyment, and we came away hoping to soon reassemble on a similar occasion.

The scene to one who loved the Master and his cause, told how precious was every effort consecrated to the Redeemer—how plainly was the gratitude of the people expressed to him who had broken for them the bread of life for the last two years.

May God continue to bless the work, may nothing win the preacher from the sacredness of his profession, and may the people glorify that name which is above all others.

AMELIA BENTON.

BREAKDOWN.—The gearing of the large water-wheel of the Weymouth Iron Works at East Weymouth, gave way last Wednesday, scattering the parts in every direction. A large arm, weighing 200 lbs. or more, fell just where one of the workmen had been standing but a moment previous. Fortunately, no one was injured, but the accident will occasion some delay in operations at the mill.

A concert is to be given in Webster Hall, North Weymouth, tomorrow evening, complimentary to S. A. Bucknell, of the Bucknell Brothers' troupe of vocalists.

Last week, as Mrs. Beals, of Joppa Village, was engaged in cauning tomatoes, she left a can on the stove, which exploded, severely burning her face.

POLITICAL.

The Republican watches burned brightly in this town last Friday evening, on the occasion of the rally at the Town Hall. The Tanners' Battalion No. 1, made their first parade on that evening, and marched to the hall in a torchlight procession, escorting the Braintree visitors. The hall was filled with ladies and gentlemen, who were entertained with eloquent addresses by Judge Russell and Edward Atkinson. E. S. Read, Esq. Hon. F. A. Hobart, and others, also briefly addressed the meeting, and in the intervals good music was disbursed by the Weymouth Band. The hall was handsomely decorated by Mr. Stoddard, of Braintree.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—Dr. Dearing, of Braintree, was called last Monday to set the shoulder of Mr. Alberg Littlefield, of this town, who fell from the roof of a barn on which he was at work.

Mr. Johnson, residing on Liberty street, while at work cutting wood about six weeks since cut one of his feet severely with a hatchet, injuring the bone so seriously that it became disengaged from the display. After returning to the corner, the Weymouth Band repeated the National air as the second flag was unfurled, and the audience were then called to order by Cottontown Nash, Esq., who called out Col. Jas. L. Bates for a speech. He was followed by Hon. F. A. Hobart and Asa French, Esq., of Braintree. Owing to the rain, the speakers were brief in their remarks, and the audience dispersed at an early hour.

The dwellings in the vicinity were generally illuminated, as was also the factory of Rogers & Co. We hear that the Republicans of East Weymouth had formed a Tanners' Battalion, which was expected to parade on that evening.

TANNERS.—Battalion No. 1, was fully organized at Binney's Hall Monday evening, with the following officers:—President, E. Atherton Hunt; Vice Presidents, Joshua Binney, Benj. T. Dowse; Secretary, D. Smith; Dr. Tracy; Erastus Nash; Finance Committee, Wm. Cushing, Andrews Lane, Edward Cushing, Captain, Geo. P. Lyon, 14th Lieut. C. T. Bailey; 2d, Edward Cushing; 3d, J. W. Hart; 4th, Nelson Hubert; Edward Bates; the old, Esq., Tanners' Battalion No. 1, and Tanners Jr.'s were present from the Landing, forming a torchlight procession and marching through the streets of the village, escorted by Post 40, G. A. B., Owing to the lack of room in the hall to accommodate the crowd, the speakers took a position in the school-house yards, and addresses were made by J. Q. A. Brackett, Esq. of Boston, Hon. F. A. Hobart and other gentlemen. Speaking was also continued in the hall, where James Humphrey, Esq. and others delivered interesting addresses.

The Republicans of Weymouth Landings will hoist a Grant and Colfax flag in Washington Square next Monday evening. Farmer Allen and other distinguished speakers, are expected, and the Weymouth Band will furnish music. A procession will be formed at Lincoln Square at 7 o'clock, and march to the factory of S. W. & E. Nash, where a fine flag procured by the proprietors and employees will be thrown to the breeze, and addresses made by the speakers of the evening, after which the procession will return, and proceed to Washington Square, where the flag will be unfurled and speaking continued. This will probably be one of the leading demonstrations of the campaign.

We learn that Messrs. Canterbury & Son will throw out the banner from their factory next Saturday evening, at 5 o'clock. Their large establishment would finely illuminate.

A concert is to be given in Webster

ALMOST A CENTENNARIAN.—A large number of relatives and friends assembled at the residence of Mr. Hammie Pratt, North Weymouth, last Monday, the occasion being the celebration of what was supposed to be her one hundredth birthday, according to her data. Examination of old records by some of her friends brought them to the conclusion that the aged lady was ninety-nine instead of one hundred, but this did not detract from the enjoyment of the party, and the hope was expressed that another year will be allotted to her span of earthly existence, when there could be no doubt of her claim to the title of centenarian.

PIQUANTS.

The Preacher's Parrot.—In a certain neighborhood there lived a very pious old preacher, who prided on the possession of a pet poll-parrot. Some of the mischievous boys of the place had taught the parrot to swear, much to the chagrin of the old gentleman. On entering the house one day, he was much grieved to hear his pet swearing with a will at the old cats. This was more than he could stand, and to punish her he took the blasphemous bird from her perch and repeatedly plunged her into a tub of water that was standing near. When Poll was released from her master's grasp, she wriggled under the stove to dry her feathers. Shortly after, a female servant found a chicken nearly drowned in a slop-bucket, and put it under the stove to dry also. The parrot quietly surveyed the new comer for a moment, and then comically turning up one eye, sagely chattered the following words as plainly as she could, "you been saying dam, too, have you?" The preacher was so pleased by the quaintness of Poll's remark that he never afterwards punished her for swearing.

What is the only thing that can live in the midst of fire? A piece of coal.

The Topeka (Kansas) Record has lately heard of a curious freak of nature. Seven pounds of rusty bacon, furnished to the Indians, swelled to twice a hundred pounds by the time the vouches were made up for the government to pay for it.

The greatest novelty is a fan which can be used as a parasol, veil or bonnet. Now we only want one that can be used indiscriminately as a four story house and a rattling wagon.

"Do you observe how devotional Deacon Buffet is?" asked a good lady of her husband. "Yes, my dear the Deacon is very devotional. He always keeps his head bowed till the contribution box has been passed."

MATTHEW HALE SMITH, the reputed New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, has written a powerfully interesting work entitled "Sunshine and Shadow in New York," which will soon be published by J. B. Burr & Co. Hartford, Ct. The table of contents announced in the prospectus foreshadows a highly interesting picture of scenes in New York life, and the work will receive large circulation. From advance sheets we are able to present some extracts from the book, which are placed on the outside of to-day's paper. The work is to be sold by subscription only, and agents are wanted to canvass for it.

The New York Journal of Music for August contains Sunday School Song Writers, Praising God, The Conservatory of Paris, Talent of Success, Fundamental Principles in Musical Taste, and ten pieces of music. Brown & Perkins, 76 East 9th St., 75 cents per year.

THE WEYMOUTH WEEKLY GAZETTE.

PIQUANTS.

Our Canadian neighbors have found out what "stationery is." Among the bills paid by the Dominion, one entered thus—"Furygo, George, for hat lost in the cars, $5."

An Irish Schoolmaster wrote the following copy for one of his pupil—"Idleness covereth a man with nakedness."

A great financial reformer is so devoted to figures that when he has nothing else to do he casts up his eyes.

A little girl in school, being asked what a cat or waterfall was, replied that it was hair flowing over something, she didn't know what.

Fortune tellers and tilting hoops operate differently. The former reveals what she will be in the future; the latter what she is at present.

There was an independent old lady once whose comments on the Bible were generally very pointed. Speaking of Adam's naming all the animals, she said she didn't think he deserved any credit for naming the hog—anybody would know what to call him.

How to Settle Accounts—"Mr. Jenkins will fit you to settle that old account of yours?" "No, Sir; you are mistaken in the man. I am not one of the old settlers!"

A sufferer complains that a sea voyage always makes him feel retched.

Why is Uncle's comet like a certain London jail? Because they both have a train.

Gail Hamilton is going to Europe for a year. It will blow a gail all the way over.

The way to "bluff" a habitual money-borrower is to ask him to lend you some.

The sea on which to wreck a diffident orator—a sea of upturned faces.

Criminolines, worn with a bustle, is the word from Paris.

The proof of the adage that time is money is found in the fact that time changes.

An editor was set all aback the other day, when he asked a farmer's wife how she made sausages and received the answer: "Take your hindquarters, scamp, and stuff 'em."

A Sheriff's officer was once asked to execute a writ against a Quaker. On arriving at his house he saw the Quaker's wife, who in reply to the inquiry whether her husband was at home, said he was, at the same time requested him to be seated, and her husband would speedily see him. The officer waited patiently for some time, when the fair Quakeress coming in again, he reminded her of his promise that he might see her husband. "Why, friend," he promised, "that he would see thee. He has seen thee. He did not like thy looks; therefore, he avoided thee, and hath departed from the house by another path."

The Hartford Post is responsible for the story of a conductor on a railroad not a thousand miles from that city, who had agreed in the kindness of his heart to pass a poor penurious fellow off his train. An officer of the road sitting in the same car, observed that the conductor took no notice of him, and called him to account for it.

"Why do you pass that man?" said Mr. Treasurer.

"Oh, he's a conductor on the—

He a conductor! Why, what makes him draw so slowly!

Oh, he's trying to live within his salary; that was the quick reply.

Mr. Treasurer saw the point and dropped the subject.

In some parts of New England there are still to be found good Baptist people who have not yet entirely overcome their prejudices against an educated ministry. A community of this description, in a bordering region of Maine, was lately ministered to in spiritual things by a divine who was able to announce his text only in this wise: "My text may be found in Luke, double x-v. Captain Tuttle's boys, who understand log-marks, can tell you what that means."

"Well, Jones, I suppose you have been out to look at Texas? Did you see anything of our friend Smith out there?"

"Yes; gone deranged."

"Is he?"

Yes, indeed; he doesn't know his own lugs from those of his neighbors."

A man had received a large lot of lobsters, fresh and lively, when a boy stood looking at the critters, accompanied by his dog. "Suppose you put your dog's tail between the lobster's claws?" said the man. "Agreed," said the boy. The peg was extracted from the claws, and the dog's tail inserted. Away went the dog off home, howling at the squeeze his tail got from the lobster. "Whistle your dog back, you young scamp," said the man. "Whistle your lobster back," cried the boy, and abquainted. The boy made a lobster supper that night.

When is a blos from a lady welcome?

When sea strikes you agreeably.

When are soldiers like blacksmiths?

When they are drilling and filing.

Which runs the fastest heat or cold?

Heat, for you can catch cold.

Want less than you have, and you will have more than you want.
